

'House wine does not mean the cheapest wine I can find, some are very expensive, it means the middlemen have been missed out. It is the wine we drink ourselves. I admit to knowing nothing about wine but along the Calle Laurel I have drunk plenty, and in that respect I can speak with some experience.' J.W.Kerr 1942-2011

'I was sitting in a small tapas bar in Haro, La Rioja and I asked the waiter for a glass of Rioja. He returned with a glass deeply coloured wine. I was astounded at the smooth and full fragrance. I did not think it was Rioja! He assured me I was wrong and produced this bottle. The following morning he took me the short walk to the source, the bodegas of R. Lopez de Heredia. J.W.Kerr 1994

CHAMPAGNE - is a way of life here and will have a surprising effect on your standing in the house - not to mention your bank balance. To enjoy the ultimate pleasure of your purchase decide if it's a glass you want or a bottle or more. There is no point in ordering 2 glasses then another 2 then another 2. A much better move is, while sober, calculate your requirements and order in bulk. if it's 4 glasses, a bottle; or 2 bottles a magnum - it will look so much better and impress not only your guests but all those around you with your panache! Always keep the corks as a very basic counting system. You see the first thing to remember about Champagne is your memory goes, you forget time and then quantity.
